"It will serve Lemon Grove as well as the rest of the Foothills area," said Beth Bennett, left, manager of the Department of Motor Vehicles office in San Diego when she visited Lemon Grove last week to announce the establishment of a new branch motor vehicles facility to be located at Lee and University Avenues in La Mesa.

With her are Alvin Scott, assistant to Mrs. Bennett, and John Twyman, a real estate man who handled negotiations for the project.

Mrs. Bennett said the location of the new building, which will have about 10,000 square feet of effice space, was chosen because it will be "located at the center of the East County population."

The project has been one which the Review has called for for the past two years. The Review, however, recommended that the project be located in Lemon Grove.

"We are glad to be able to offer better service to residents of east suburban San Diego," Mrs. Bennett said. "The department, like the state itself, is growing as fast as it can. We want to give the best service possible within the ability of our physical limitations," she said.

The new office, to be started immediately, will give driver's license, auto license and transfer—L. G. Camera Foto

Water Works Wants Frank Hamilton to

Pipe Moves

A bill which would require the federal government to reimburse utilities such as irrigation districts for cost of work in relocating utility facilities because of construction of federal primary or secondary highway systems, has received the support of the irrigation district.

The board voted to join with other members of the American Water Works Association in urging congressmen to support the bill, HR 7072. Similar action has been taken by the Senate.

State of California law requires that the State Division of Highways reimburse such agencies as the irrigation district for the cost of moving water lines or other public utility services, in order to make way for construction of state highways. The proposed legislation would place the same statutory requirements on the federal government in connection with the national system of highways.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl N. Anthony, weeks-three days vacation trip,

that included a week in Seattle with Mr. Anthony's brother and that included a week in Seattle with Mr. Anthony's brother and a week at Banff. The weather was drizzly throughout after leaving California, with Oregon contributing her share, but Banff was just too wet to permit outside-the-house activities. Mr. Anthony's hobby is painting, and had envisioned a number of views of Canadian scenes transferred to canvas, but old Jupiter Pluvius said NO! A redeeming of this section's climate.

In New Brunswick, Canada, an elderly man, believed dead when he was lost in February's blizzard, was found safe and sound, and snuggling up to a gently snoring bear who was hibernating in his den. Top Comedian Stars in Serious Drama

A DOWN-AND-OUT GAMBLER who makes a desperate try for a come-back into big time betting will theme the United States Steel Hour's gripping and poignant dramatization of "The Gambler," starring popular Jack Carson, Wednesday, July 20th on the CBS network in the award-winning series' new time on the CBS network in the award-winning series new time period.

Against the entreaties of his only friend and his wife to forget his folly, Big Maxie, portrayed by Carson, implores former gambling pals to lend him enough money to play a hot tip. He discovers, however, that his past has caught up with him and that no one is interested in a has-been. Driven to despondency, he finally sees, through association with a punch-drunk fighter, that while he may be finished as a gambler, he is far from finished as a human being. Author of original teleplay was Irvin Richin. Jack Carson, who scored major triumphs on two previous Steel Hour shows, "Man in the Corner" and "Goodbye ... But It Doesn't Go Away," recently won additional honors for his movie portrayal in "A Star Is Born." He began his career in vaudeville and, in 1936, went to Hollywood where he has been prominently cast in a series of outstanding motion pictures. The husky actor attributes to TV his rescue from the movie type casting which had presented him nearly always as "either an idiot or a heel."

The Steel Hour is produced by The Theatre Guild. (ANS)

Pansies like a cool soil that its porous and well mixed with a good organic humus. They require abundant phosphate for good root development such as is supplied by bone meal or superphosphate. During the winter season they thrive in full sun although as the days lengthen they will tolerate more shaded conditions. Drainage should be excellent and the soil surface should be lightly cultivated at two week intervals or after each heavy rainfall. Few flowers come close to the Pansy as the leader in popularity of modern bedding plants. Pansies continue to hold top popularity with little competition year after year. Little wonder when one views a beautiful bed of prize winning plants at a garden show competition, but the question still remains of how to develop like blooms in the regular home garden environment.

Actually, there is little that remains in the way of a secret to successful growing of exhibition quality pansy plants. Of course, quality seed must be chosen and most commercial growers are trayer meticulous on this point. Cost of seed is of secondary time, or the color selection.
